

Youth Volunteer Covenant

I understand that I am signing up to be part of the PCN 2015 youth summer mission trip to PuertoPlata, Dominican Republic. I promise to be in prayer and support for the entire team and take an active role in getting to know all those who will be participating on this trip. I understand that this is not a vacation for me or an opportunity to go and do activities outside of what is planned for the group as a whole. I promise to be an active member of PCN or another church and will do my part to be an example of leadership, compassion and service to the other students and adults who are attending this trip. I covenant to be at the fundraisers and team building events with enthusiasm and energy and with a readiness to be involved in what needs to be done to make our time together a success. I covenant to make this trip about serving other students and learning about the community we are serving while at all times attempting to put aside my own personal agendas and goals. I understand and promise to uphold the expectations that have been set before me and will be an active participate in the life and ministry of a faith community. I promise to uphold good moral conduct, refrain from drinking, doing drugs, bringing/buying alcohol, drugs, or weapons on the trip. I understand that if there is even a suspicion that any of these things have been violated I will be going home at my parent's expense. I covenant to be a witness to God's love to all whom we meet and serve prior to and while on our mission trip. I promise to support the mission of PCN and to be a witness to the PCN community through my love and service to both PCN and the community beyond.

Student:

I _____ (student printed name) promise to uphold the expectations that have been set before the team, and I covenant to in all things be the hands and feet of Christ, supporting the leadership team and encouraging fellow students as they serve Christ in the Dominican Republic in 2015.

Parent

I _____ (parent printed name) agree to the above covenant that my child is agreeing to, realizing that I will support my student in every way to help them live out these expectations. I covenant to be an active participant with all of the required activities required of my student to participate on this trip and I promise to uphold and support the decisions that Jeff and Amanda make both prior to and while on the trip itself. I understand that if my student can not live up to these expectations they may be asked not to attend the trip (with all but the non-refundable deposit returned) or in the event they break one of the rules while on the trip they will be sent home at my own personal expense. I realize that this is a wonderful opportunity for all our youth to grow in faith and I will do all that I can to encourage, pray for and assist our students in serving Christ in the Dominican Republic in 2015.
